

ANALYSTS

Analysts are experts at taking information and using it to provide interesting stats or learn from it, either for a particular team, tournament provider, broadcaster or game developer. Team analysts usually work with coaches to generate strategies, analyse strengths and weaknesses, and communicate this to the players in order to get the best out of them.

HOURS/ SALARY

As with most esports roles, it varies. For some examples, in the NLC (the top level of UK League of Legends), analysts get between £400 to £1,000 or even up to £2,000 per month with the best teams. In the mid-tier UKLC, analysts could be on around £50-500 per month.

There's the opportunity to earn more by offering one-on-one services too. Some streamers offer analysis services, charging anything from £20 to £100 or beyond for a report.
